

IAPHRD 2017 Call for Participation

International Association for Public Human Resource Development
3rd International Conference

Theme

Public Sector Revitalization:

A Call for Strategic, Creative, and Innovative Human Resource (HR) Governance

October 2, 2017

Isabela State University, Echague, Isabela, Philippines

As in our past conferences, the International Association for Public Human Resource Development (IAPHRD) highlighted the importance of continuous discourse on public HRD and its role in enhancing the capacity of public sector organizations. During the 1st International Conference which was held in Macau, China, IAPHRD focused on the “Future of Public Human Resource Development Challenges and Tasks: A Focus on Strategic Human Resource Approaches”. The conference underscored the need for strategic integration of individual, managerial, organizational, and societal standpoint of HRD. The 2nd International Conference in Korea, IAPHRD advanced a scholarly discussion on the “Past, Present, and Future of Public Human Resource Development: Reilluminating and Strengthening Public Human Resource Capacity”. The traditional and contemporary role of public HRD was deeply tackled as well as the prospects and challenges for strategic NHRD.

The IAPHRD deems it timely and fitting to advance and open a practical and scholarly discourse in public management studies on revitalizing public sector organizations. As such, the 3rd International Conference adopts the theme “Public Sector Revitalization: A Call for Strategic, Creative, and Innovative Human Resource (HR) Governance”. This conference will facilitate discussions and sharing of best practices in human resource governance, studies on public management, strategic HRD, creativity and innovation in the public sector.

The IAPHRD invites scholars, practitioners, and students to join as a moderator, presenter, or discussant for the conference. For those who are interested to be a presenter, you may send your application together with your abstract to the email address below. Also, we will be serving meals and snacks as well as token of appreciation for those who will serve as our conference moderators, presenters, and discussants. We hope to see you at the conference in Isabela State University, Philippines.
